
Autumn Shuping

Piano Instructor

The piano has been part of Autumn's life since she was five years old. Watching and learning from her uncle at a young age stirred her desire and drive to learn. Autumn studied piano and music theory under Mrs. Bobbi Brown for nine years, studied voice under Dr. Tripp McGill through high school, and later through Dr. Donald Leroy and Dr. Michelle Johnson at Lee University - a school well-known for their impeccable music program. She has continued her studies through the years, perfecting her playing and teaching methods.

Autumn has taught children for more than 10 years, taught private piano lessons for one year, and lead as a teacher and accompanist for a children's choir for three years. Teaching music has been one of the greatest gifts in her life.

Music Quarters is excited to have Autumn as part of our teaching staff. Her enthusiasm for teaching piano is a delight and we know our students and parents will enjoy working with her.
