

Kyle Carinelli

Piano & Flute Instructor

Kyle Carinelli has been teaching flute and piano at Music Quarters since September 2014. She started studying the piano at age 5 and the flute shortly after at age 9. She holds a Bachelor of Music from UNC Charlotte in flute performance. While at UNCC Kyle studied both classical and jazz repertoire, as well as advanced music theory and arranging. Kyle is a former student of Mark Thomas, founder of the National Flute Association. She has also studied with Jennifer Dior, flautist for the Charlotte Symphony.

Kyle loves to teach and perform a wide variety of musical styles. She currently plays flute and piccolo in the Charlotte Civic Orchestra and a professional flute quartet, and plays piano and keyboards for a number of local indie rock bands. She performed with a featured artist at the South by Southwest music festival in 2012.

Kyle has been teaching piano and flute lessons in the Charlotte area for the past 13 years and many of these students have consistently received Superior ratings at the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs festival each year. She loves instilling a love and passion for music in her students!
