

Molly Roth

VIOLIN INSTRUCTOR

Ever since she was in elementary school, Molly has had a passion for music and the violin. She started taking violin lessons in 2019 and has been dedicated to playing the instrument in the subsequent six years under teachers such as Scott Garrett and Peter de Vries. She is currently studying violin at Queens University of Charlotte and has been a violinist in the university's chamber orchestra.

Molly's future plans include a bachelor's degree in creative writing with hopes of a career as an author or publisher. In her free time, however, she loves playing movie or video game soundtracks on her violin and serenading friends and family with their favorite songs.

Through various childcare and summer camp programs such as Charlotte Latin Summer Camps, Molly has been working with and instructing children for over nine years. She looks forward to using her experience with children to teach beginner to intermediate level violinists.

Molly will be teaching on Tuesday's and Thursdays at Music Quarters.